Finding

- The court rejected Rivada protest on all claims (March 17, 2017)
- The court agreed with all facets of the FirstNet procurement process
- The court agreed with FirstNet's reasonable decision that Rivada carried significant risk

Overview

- Protest filed in U.S. Court of Federal Claims (November 16, 2017)
- Department of Justice defended FirstNet in Case, with support from FirstNet

Decision

"Accordingly, the fact that the agency included only AT&T's proposal in the competitive range does not demonstrate that the government applied an unstated preference for a large carrier; it merely reflects the agency's reasonable determination that Rivada's proposal carried too much risk"
